

Five-Year Common-Sense Warranty:

If you believe that your Tuned Up Customs Rod has become unusable due to a manufactured defect, fill out this form in full. Ship all pieces of your rod, along with this form to our shop address below at your cost. It is the sole decision of the Tuned Up Custom Rods Staff if the rod has suffered a manufactured defect. If it is decided that a manufactured defect has occurred a replacement rod matching your rod will be made and shipped back to you. Standard 3-5 week build times will apply unless we have a rod in stock that matches your current rod. Any changes to your current design must be approved by phone and additional fees may apply.
